STEEL's
List of the Royal Navy:
JANUARY, 1809.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE close of the late eventful year claims, from the Proprietors of the original and correct List of the ROYAL NAVY, the sincere expression of their gratitude to the Public and the naval World, for that liberal patronage, which has, for thirty years, been a continual stimulus to their labours; and, while they revert to those labours with a complacent satisfaction, they feel anxious that the future should be commensurate with the past. Influenced by this wish, and eager to render their Miscellany as extensively useful and perfect as the pre-eminence of its subject demands, they have this month adopted (with many extensive improvements,) a most comprehensive Arrangement and Plan of Reference, by which the LIEUTENANTS, MASTERS, SURGEONS, ASSISTANT SURGEONS, and MARINE OFFICERS, are attached to their respective ships, thereby enabling the friends of every officer, through the gradations of rank, to ascertain the actual situation of those for whose welfare they are interested. In the Miscellaneous Department of the List will be found a key to this plan, which the Proprietors trust will prove as generally useful as it is easy and comprehensive.

This Day is published, Price 1*s.* 6*d.*,

MISCELLANEOUS.

A COURT MARTIAL was holden, in November, on board the Princess of Orange, in the Downs (Sir J. S. Yorke, President) for the trial of Capt. Cathcart, the officers and crew, of the Seagull (bg) 18, which was sunk, 19 June, by several Danish gun boats, after a most noble resistance. The Court were of opinion that Captain Cathcart had evinced the most determined resolution and cool judgement; they expressed the highest approbation of Lieut V. F. Hatton, the officers and crew; and adjudged them all to be most honorably acquitted.

A Court Martial was holden, 30 Aug. on board the Milan, 38, in Port Royal Harbour, Jamaica, on Capt. Frederick Warren, the officers and crew, of the Meleager, 30, lost off Barebush Key. The Court were of opinion, that every credit was due to Capt. Warren for his able and cool conduct, and to the officers and crew, for their prompt obedience through a most arduous service; they also determined that the loss was occasioned by an error of judgement in Mr. Kerr, the master; and recommended to the officers of the watch a more strict attention to those essential parts of their duty, heaving the log and noticing the courses to be steered.

His Majesty has been pleased to grant an augmentation of honor to the family-arms and crest of the lamented Capt. G. N. Hardinge (of the St. Fiorenzo) in consequence of his uniform gallantry, and of his glorious death off Ceylon, on the 8th March last.

The Merchants, Ship-owners, &c. of Bombay, as a testimony of the important service rendered to the commercial interests of India, by the capture of the Piedmontaise by the St. Fiorenzo, G. N. Hardinge, have resolved to present a vase of the value of 300 guineas to the father of the gallant Capt. H.; a sword of the value of 100 guineas to Lieut. Dawson, acting in the command of the St. Fiorenzo after the fall of her brave Commander; and to distribute 500*l.* among the wounded, and the relatives of the brave fellows who fell in the action.

The Prince of Brazil has not only made an addition to the arms of Sir S. Smith; but has conferred on him three estates which are of considerable value.

By accounts from the East Indies, we learn that the Terpsichore, 32, W. A. Montague, had a severe action with the French frigate Semillante, which escaped, owing to the bursting of one of the Terpsichore's guns, which we regret to add, killed Lieut. C. Janes and 1- of the crew. The Semillante suffered so severely in the action, that she has since made the Isle of France, and been laid up as not sea-worthy

Among other beneficial arrangements effected by Sir James Cockburn, governor of Curacoa, we may notice the establishment of a regular packet from England, twice a month, by the way of Tortola, to the great convenience of the inhabitants of that valuable conquest.

The politics of South America assume a favourable aspect, and in some measure solace the mind for the great and continued disasters experienced by the patriot Spaniards of the mother country.

Our readers will perceive the great increase of naval armament off the coasts of Spain and Portugal: we understand they are victualled for five months. Various causes are assigned for so great an augmentation of force; but it appears principally to be destined, in the event of serious reverses, for the escape of our army and the safety of the Spanish navy.

The action (with two French privateers of 12 and 10 guns) of the Rook (sch.) 8 guns and 25 men, Lieut. James Lawrence, from Jamaica to London with despatches, claims a commemorative space in our miscellany. The action was fought off St. Domingo; and, after a gallant resistance of one hour and a half, the British Commander gloriously fell, pierced with wounds. The schooner was then commanded, in the most gallant manner, by Mr. Seward, the master; but was ultimately carried by boarding. The most wanton cruelties were inflicted on the few hapless survivors; they were stripped, put adrift in the boat, and fortunately reached the shores of St. Domingo, after an exertion of four hours. To the five survivors of this gallant band will no doubt be awarded that recompence which the naval heroes of Britain ever receive from their grateful and admiring countrymen

His Majesty's late sloop the Seagull, which was sunk off the harbour of Christiansand, has been weighed by the Danes and commissioned in their service.

An expedition (terminating in the capture of a flotilla of 38 vessels of the enemy) has been executed by a detachment from our army in Sicily, aided by the Captains Prescott and Pearse, of the Weazle and Halcyon sloops. The captured vessels were anchored in the Bay of Diamante, on the Calabrian coast. After a severe cannonade from the ships, the troops were landed, and succeeded in driving the enemy from the town and batteries, the guns of which they turned on the vessels. Due praise is assigned to the judicious Col. Bryce, who commanded; to Major Hammill; Capt. Campbell, of the Artillery; Capt. O'Bryen, of the 58th; Lieut. Lawson, of the Engineers; and to the naval officers, whose co-operation tended materially to the success of the enterprize.

A very numerous meeting of the Lieutenants of the navy was lately held at Plymouth Dock, to consider the expediency of petitioning the legislature for an increase of pay, adequate to their rank and responsibility in the service.

The Prince Arthur (bg) 18, lying at Spithead, is intended as a present to the Emperor of Moroceo; she is fitted superbly, well furnished with stores, and mounted with brass guns.

The Jupiter, 50, H. E. R. Baker, was wrecked in December, off Vigo. The details not yet received.

Obituary.—At his seat near Winchester, aged 75, Sir Thomas Pasley, Bart. Admiral of the White, who lost his leg in the memorable battle of the first of June; when, as on many other occasions, he meritoriously distinguished himself.—At Gibraltar, of a wound received in a duel, Mr. John Bruguier, purser of the San Juan.—Lt J. S. Drury, 1st of the Modeste, drowned in Diamond Harbour, East-Indies, by the sudden upset of the boat conveying him to Madras.—At Hythe, Capt. James Irwin, (1) lately Agent for Transports in the Baltic Expedition.—In London, aged 17, Mr. W. Badcock, midshipman of the Stately, 64. W. Cumberland. This young man (a grandson of the respected Richard Cumberland, Esq.) was eminently gifted; and, but for his immature death, would probably have added one to the roll of naval heroes.—Suddenly, at Plymouth, Mr. N. Norman, late purser of the Unicorn, 32.—Capt. J. M Jennings, R. M.—At Osborn's hotel, aged 27, Lt William Skelton.—On board the Hind, (sp) Mr. M'Carthy, midshipman.—At Jamaica, Mr. G. R. F Long, of the Goree, (sp) 16.—With sincere grief we record the death of Capt. J. B. Balderston, of the Parthian, 14. The master's mate, J. Smith, had been distrusted for neglect of duty, and for this he deliberately shot his commander on the quarter-deck. A Court Martial was holden on Monday, the 19 Dec. on board the Salvador del Mundo, (Rr-Adm. Sutton, Pres.) when the court adjudged the said J. Smith to be hanged at the yard-arm of such of His Majesty's ships as the Lords Com. of the Admiralty shall direct. This sentence was enforced on Monday the 26th Dec. at the yard-arm of the Parthian, in Plymouth Harbour. The unhappy man evinced penitence for his crime, and suffered with fortitude.—At Ipswich, Rear Adm. Sam. Uvedale, of the superannuated list.—Near Pitchfield, aged 75, James Green, Esq. one of the oldest officers of the Royal Marines. In 1760, he was at the taking of Havannah.

CORRESPONDENCE.—To A. Z.—A Constant Friend.—J. E. W.,—A Constant Reader,—J. T.,—and Amicus, we are obliged.—The suggestion of our esteemed Friend, Jack the Eccentric, shall be attended to; the C. L. cannot long exist.—We acknowlege the favor of Mr. Wm. T——s; the addition he requests would, we fear, occupy more space than could be allotted: if possible, it shall be effected.—We cannot admit the statement of Mr. P. P.. in which decision we are solely influenced by a prudential motive.—Other late communications shall be noticed in our next.

The PLAN OF REFERENCE is this month necessarily imperfect; our future sources of information, (with the kind assistance of our correspondents) will render it complete. We thus briefly explain it: to the name of each officer are attached figures, the first expressing the number of the ship in the page denoted by the last. Thus, P. Bryson, 14 12, denotes that officer to be on-board the 14th ship (the ships being regularly numbered in each page) in the 12th page; and so on through all the classes of officers comprehended in the Navy List.
